The Indigenous Education Institute (IEI) is a 25-year-old nonprofit organization with all Indigenous board and an advisory council made up of renowned knowledge holders and scientists from around the world. One board member, David Begay, Ph.D., is also the director of the Indigenous Education Institute and the National Museum of American Indian (NMAI). We provide professional development to science centers. We teach strategic planning based on Indigenous ways of knowing and a greater sense of understanding the earth Indian (NMAI). Also we partner with Association of Science and Technology Centers (ASTC). Cosmic Serpent: Collaboration With Integrity. We partner with National Museum of American have written books on Navajo Astronomy juxtaposed with western astronomy – Sharing the We provide professional development to science centers. We teach strategic planning based on Indigenous ways of knowing and a greater sense of understanding the earth Indian (NMAI). Also we partner with Association of Science and Technology Centers (ASTC). Cosmic Serpent: Collaboration With Integrity. We partner with National Museum of American have written books on Navajo Astronomy juxtaposed with western astronomy – Sharing the We provide professional development to science centers. We teach strategic planning based on Indigenous ways of knowing and a greater sense of understanding the earth Indian (NMAI). Also we partner with Association of Science and Technology Centers (ASTC). Cosmic Serpent: Collaboration With Integrity. We partner with National Museum of American have written books on Navajo Astronomy juxtaposed with western astronomy – Sharing the We provide professional development to science centers. We teach strategic planning based on Indigenous ways of knowing and a greater sense of understanding the earth Indian (NMAI). Also we partner with Association of Science and Technology Centers (ASTC). Cosmic Serpent: Collaboration With Integrity. We partner with National Museum of American have written books on Navajo Astronomy juxtaposed with western astronomy – Sharing the